All processing operations are carried out pursuant to Commission Decision \(EU, Euratom\) 2017/46 of 10 January 2017 on the security of communication and information systems in the European Commission.

In order to protect your personal data, the Commission has put in place a number of technical and organisational measures. Technical measures include appropriate actions to address online security, risk of data loss, alteration of data or unauthorised access, taking into consideration the risk presented by the processing and the nature of the personal data being processed. 8. Cookies

Cookies are short text files stored on a user's device (such as a computer, tablet or phone) by a website. Cookies are used for the technical functioning of a website (functional cookies) or for gathering statistics (analytical cookies).

The 2023 High-level event on elections website managed by Tipik, as processor acting on behalf of the data controller, has a cookies policy governed by EU law.

On the use of cookies by Zoom, see Heading 9.2 below.

9. Third-party IT tools, including Social Media

9.1 Commission websites

We will use third-party IT tools to inform about and promote the event through widely used communication channels, including the social media. For detailed information about the use of social media by the European Commission, see the Record of Processing DPR-EC-00073 (Social Media Use by the European Commission).

You may be able to watch our videos, which may be also uploaded to one of our social media pages and follow links from our website to other relevant social media.

In order to protect your privacy, our use of third-party IT tools to connect to those services does not set cookies when our website pages are loaded on your computer (or other devices), nor are you immediately redirected to those social media or other websites. Only in the event that you click on a button or "play" on a video to watch it, a cookie of the social media company concerned will be installed on your device. If you do not click on any social media buttons or videos, no cookies will be installed on your device by third parties.

In order to view such third-party content on our websites, a message will alert you that you need to accept those third parties' specific Terms and Conditions, including their cookie policies, over which the Commission has no control.

The use of a third-party IT tool does not in any way imply that the European Commission endorses them or their privacy policies. In the event that one or more third-party IT tools are occasionally unavailable, we accept no responsibility for lack of service due to their downtime.

We recommend that users carefully read the relevant privacy policies of the social media tools used. These explain each company's policy of personal data collection and further processing, their use of data, users' rights and the ways in which users can protect their privacy when using those services.

9.2 Event online participation

For the purpose of organising online participation, the contractor (Tipik Communication Agency) uses a third party tool, Zoom, that under Tipik Communication Agency responsibility, collects from moderators and speakers the following personal data: title, position, the first name, last name, email address, IP address, website data, geolocation, and browser-generated information, cookies, language settings, operating system used, unique device identifiers or other technologies used to analyse users' activity. For information on how Zoom uses cookies and how processes personal data, please see privacy policy here.

10. International transfers

The European Commission may transfer your personal data to the recipients in a third country or to an international organisation in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 (e.g. for travel and hotel booking purposes or when sharing the list of participants to all participants irrespective of their country of origin/establishment or whether they work for international organisations).

The legal basis for the transfer of your personal data is to be found in either Article 47 of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 when the third country is covered by an adequacy decision (for a list of the countries concerned, see Adequacy decisions | European Commission \(europa.eu\)) or by Article 50(1)(a) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 under which the data subject has explicitly consented to the proposed transfer, after having been informed of the possible risks of such transfers for the data subject due to the absence of an adequacy decision and appropriate safeguards.

While the transfer of personal data to certain third countries is covered by adequacy decisions (see above), there may be participants in the events established in countries not covered by such decisions or working for international organisations. The data controller is therefore not in a position to guarantee you that the level of protection afforded by those third countries or international organisations to your personal data will necessarily be equivalent to that afforded under EU law. However, the related risks may be considered to be limited as the personal data to be transferred should only consist in names and affiliation (which may actually already publicly available). You are in any event entitled to object to the transfer of your personal data. For practical reasons, as there should only be one list of participants, should you object or withdraw your consent to your name and contact details being mentioned in the list, you may be completely taken out from said list.

Please note that pursuant to Article 3(13) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 public authorities (e.g. Court of Auditors, EU Court of Justice) which may receive personal data in the framework of a particular inquiry in accordance with Union or Member State law shall not be regarded as recipients. The further processing of those data by those public authorities shall be in compliance with the applicable data protection rules according to the purposes of the processing.

The information we collect will not be given to any third party, except to the extent and for the purpose we may be required to do so by law.

This section only applies to transfers to be carried out by the Commission itself or by its contractors at the Commission's request; it does not cover possible international transfers resulting from the use of third-party IT tools, which are governed by the relevant third-party privacy policy (see Heading 9.2 above).

11. What are your rights and how can you exercise them?

You have specific rights as a 'data subject' under Chapter III (Articles 14-25) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725, in particular the right to access, your personal data and to rectify them in case your personal data are inaccurate or incomplete. Where applicable, you have the right to erase your personal data, to restrict the processing of your personal data, to object to the processing, and the right to data portability.

You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data, which is lawfully carried out pursuant to Article 5(1)(a) of Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 on grounds relating to your particular situation.

The European Commission will ensure that the data subjects can exercise their right to object to processing whenever possible by the organisers of the meeting/event (for example, on the spot by indicating a non-web streamed seat if requested; or ex-post, by deleting a specific sequence from the online video/voice recording).

You have consented to provide your personal data to the data controller for the present processing operation. You will be able to withdraw your consent at any time by notifying the data controller. The withdrawal of your consent will not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out before you have withdrawn the consent.

You can exercise your rights by contacting the data controller, or in case of conflict the Data Protection Officer. If necessary, you can also address the European Data Protection Supervisor. Their contact information is given under Heading 12 below.

Where you wish to exercise your rights in the context of one or several specific processing operations, please provide their description (i.e. their Record reference(s) as specified under Heading 13 below) in your request.
